

After Humanity 50008: (+- A Few Million Years)

There is only one race? the human race. All the subsets of the race, with whatever interpretations of their distinct environments they have adopted as strategy for survival? whatever physical or psychological attributes evolved due to the need to survive in those environments? all of these were environmentally caused. Any subset of the human race should be more accurately referred to as tribes, nations, ethnic groups, and etc. There is only one race of Humans, and they are us. There is only one planet we live on, and it is a Human planet. Use strength, courage, compassion, honesty, intellect, and responsibility as your guide in every moment, and we cannot go wrong.
