

The Fugitive Blacksmith: Or, Events in the History of James W. C. Pennington, Pastor of a Presbyterian Church, New York, Formerly a Slave in the State of Maryland, United States

The information just communicated to me by you, that another edition of my little book, The Fugitive Blacksmith, is called for, has agreeably surprised me. The British public has laid me under renewed obligations by this mark of liberality, which I hasten to acknowledge. I would avail myself of this moment also, to acknowledge the kindness of the gentlemen of the newspaper press for the many favorable reviews which my little book has received. It is to them I am indebted, in no small degree, for the success with which I have been favored in getting the book before the notice of the public.
