

The Smallest Village: The Story of Dering Harbor Shelter Island, New York 1874-1974

The Village of Dering Harbor was incorporated in 1917 after many successful years as a resort community formed in 1873 as Shelter Island Park. The centerpiece of the community was the great Manhasset House that opened in 1874 serving the well-to-do of the late 19th century during the summer season. As the hotel was nestled overlooking a protected harbor with access to both Long Island Sound and Block Island Sound with LIRR service from Brooklyn, the community attracted many yachting families from the New York Yacht Club, Atlantic Yacht Club, and other clubs from New York Harbor to Long Island Sound to Bristol Rhode Island. One of the many legacies is the large fleet of Herreshoff 12' footers located at the Shelter Island Yacht Club not to mention the burgees of some of the Clubs earliest members displayed as you find your way to the head. Many of the original cottages built in Dering Harbor were either private homes or houses owned and operated by the hotel. The styles range from period Victorian, Federal Style, Classic Revival to Queen Anne. Two buildings in use today were originally carriage houses. Most of the homes in Dering Harbor were built between 1874 and 1931. THE VILLAGE of Dering Harbor has frequently been called the smallest incorporated village in New York State, perhaps in the whole country. No sustained effort has been made to determine whether this is really so, but there would appear to be some truth in the assertion. The facts are that it comprises a mere two hundred acres, no more than a good-sized farm, and exactly thirty households, only four of which are inhabited the year round. Mayor Ian Brownlie, a conscientious weekender, speaks of his bailiwick as the smallest political unit in the United States and has not, so far, been contradicted. Ghost towns of smaller dimensions and zero populations may perhaps be found in the once-golden west but Dering Harbor is decisively not that sort of community. Skeletons in closets, maybe; ghosts not yet!
