

The English Philosophers from Bacon to Mill (Modern library anthologies)

The thirteen essays in this Modern Library edition comprise a complete survey of the golden age of English philosophy. The anthology begins in the early seventeenth century with Francis Bacon's comprehensive program for the total reorganization of all knowledge; it culminates, some two hundred and fifty years later, with John Stuart Mill. The thinkers represented here are the creators of the twentieth-century world. Indebted to them is a long line of economists, sociologists, and political leaders whose work has profoundly influenced the life and thought of our own time. Included are the excerpts from Francis Bacon's The Great Instauration, Thomas Hobbes' Leviathan, Jeremy Bentham's An Introduction to the Principles of Morals and Legislation, and John Locke's An Essay Concerning Human Understanding. The complete texts are provided for Locke's second Treatise of Government, George Berkeley's Treatise Concerning the Principles of Human Knowledge, David Hume's Enquiry Concerning Human Understanding and Dialogues Concerning Natural Religion, John Gay's Concerning the Fundamental Principle of Virtue or Morality, James Mill's Government, and John Stuart Mill's Utilitarianism and On Liberty. With an introduction as well as nine biographical prefaces by Edwin A. Burt.
